

Constant Connect

Protecting your connection (and your business!)

100% availability of your Internet connection is now possible with Mainstream's Constant Connect Service. As BT continue to move the complete telephone network over to the Internet, we are all being forced to consider the potential impact of losing not only the data but also the voice services when the Internet connection fails. Traditional techniques for building resilience have to date been costly for most small businesses and small enterprises to sustain. Advances in Mobile and networking technologies allow Mainstream to provide more cost effective resilience and will work even if you are not using our Broadband Services.

Is one of these pains, your pain?

- My Internet connection cuts out on a regular basis but as I rely more and more on the Internet, I am losing business to my competitors
- I have a reliable Internet connection, but I worry how the business would be impacted if it did fail on those rare occasions
- I have been told that going hosted for voice or SIP trunks for voice is going to be my only choice in 2025, I need the same level of reliability that old world voice has given me for decades
- I am concerned about minimising costs while minimising downtime risk and I need a provider who can help me with this business/technical challenge

How the Mainstream solution lets you sleep at night

Mainstream have built a service solution that seamlessly delivers resilience without the 'bill-shock' that can happen when using 4G mobile networks as the path to increased reliability.

How do we do it?

If you are a Small to Medium Business or Small Enterprise, we recognise that you may well use mobile phones to keep in touch when your Internet fails.

We have created a service that puts a low cost standby mobile SIM into your network and be ready for action any time of day or night. If your network fails for a short while, then the cost of networking will be covered by the baseline price.

Should your broadband end up being a problem for longer we can work out the best way to limit your exposure to large 4G mobile bills while remaining online.

We have a number of solutions to deal with different services you need to ensure operate, even when your fixed Internet connection fails.
